EDEN VALLEY RIESLING

"There's no doubt that Shiraz is the 'king' of the Barossa Valley, and as winemakers we're spoilt rotten to get access to some of the oldest and best Shiraz vineyards on the planet. However, someone 'up there' must be really looking out for us Barossa winemakers, because right next door we've got the Eden Valley, and its magnificent 'empress'...Riesling! Dotted across what is beautiful, but often harsh, country you'll find some of Australia's best Riesling vineyards, the birth place of some of the most mind numbingly superb dry white wines this country produces.

Fortuitous networks have given us access to two particularly good Riesling vineyards in the Eden Valley....one at the Southern end of Eden Valley, just below the High-Eden sub region, and the other at the northern end....a rare 50 year old dry grown block near Keyneton.

Our Riesling shows great fruit purity, and once your palate negotiates the initial pure citrus flavours, the wine glides across the mid-palate with an energetic gait showing hints of mineral 'wet slate', orange blossom, white flowers and talc. Just an amazing drink!"
