

"You could drink quite a lot of this."
(Winsor Dobbin, Feb '14)

2013 JOSHUA

"For anyone who has ever met my business partner Mick Page and I, it would come as no surprise to learn that the idea for Teusner Wines was conceived at the pub over a few beers. We'd been listening to a couple of old growers have a whine about the low, low prices being paid for their old vine Grenache...to the point where they were going to tear the vineyard out and plant Chardonnay!

Now whilst we're not adverse to the odd glass of Chardonnay, planting it on the Barossa Valley floor is akin to drinking light beer...just not on! So it was left to Mick and I to hatch a rescue plan. Scrambling together some cash, the grapes found a new home, the vines stayed in the ground where they belong and Teusner Wines was born!

That first wine, like Mick's first son, was called Joshua. Typically a blend of about 2/3rds old vine Grenache, a chunk of Mataro and a splash of Shiraz, we keep our Josh' away from oak and release it young to showcase the kind of juicy, spicy, flavorsome wines you can do so well in the Barossa by blending heritage varieties from old vines.

Josh'.....you beauty!"

KYM TEUSNER, WINEMAKER

94 points James Halliday's Australian Wine Companion

94 points Gary Walsh, Wine Front

92 points Jeremy Pringle, winewilleatitself.com

TRUE & RIGHTEOUS PLEASURE